

Compliance Academy: Building Your Strong Foundations

Do you have a Compliance role? Be confident in your role...

Being in a Compliance Officer role, you wear many hats and get involved in so many projects. You may feel pulled from pillar to post or that you are spinning plates (sound familiar?) It's an exciting and responsible role.

One which can make a massive difference to the success of the business and one where it can't stand still.

This session is for those who have a compliance/risk role, but is also good for those who have an SMF function/directors of companies. Build your CPD and be well-equipped.

The session will be hosted by Create Solutions and you will have the pleasure of meeting several Create Solutions Staff/consultants.

During the session, we will discuss and explore the following topics:

- How the Compliance Officer role is changing - Risks and Opportunities
- A recap on SMCR
- Governance and risk management - your link and why this is important
- Consumer Duty - your role in delivering good outcomes
- Having your fingers on the pulse
- Resilience - looking after yourself and other stakeholders
- The FCA - How they operate and interact with firms
- Non-Financial Misconduct - what you need to know
